Timber-r-r-r!

LIKE GEORGE WASHINGTON, Mayor Von Dee Cruse cannot tell a lie. He's the one who took a whack Friday at a "Welcome to Pontoon Beach" sign located on Pontoon Road just west of the Alton & Southern Railroad tracks. Though the sign is on private property, it's still in the corporate limits of Granite City, said acting city engineer Edward Schulze, who told Cruse about the sign. The land on the eastern side of the tracks belongs to Pontoon Beach, Schulze said.

Hazardous waste site closed

VENICE — A permanent injunction against Jerry-Russell Bliss Inc., a Missouri corporation, shutting down a waste storage facility at 1226 Bissell St., Venice, has been signed by Chief Judge Philip J. Rarrick of the 3rd Judicial Circuit Court.

The court also ordered Jerry-Russell Bliss Inc. to pay a penalty of $13,500. The default judgment against the Bliss firm was sought by Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan.

TWO 92,000-gallon storage tanks that are located in Venice have been a dumping site, authorities said, since 1982 for such hazardous wastes as naphthalene, trichloroethylene and benzene, a known cancer-causing agent.

The large tanks in question are situated about 100 yards east of the Bissell Street Apartment complex. The court's permanent injunction also names GMI Corp. of St. Louis, a company that has leased the property where the tanks are situated.

BLISS is the waste hauler who allegedly sprayed dioxin-tainted oil at Times Beach, Mo., and other sites in eastern and central Missouri in the early 1970s.

A temporary injunction issued in 1985 halted dumping or removal of any chemicals from the Bissell Street tanks.

"After this order was issued, Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols said the Bliss firm also was involved in the alleged spraying of contaminated oil in Venice railroad yards.

CHARGES WERE filed Feb. 4, 1983, by the Illinois attorney general's office with the Illinois Pollution Control Board against the Jerry-Russell Bliss firm, an employee of the company and Illinois Central Gulf Railroad.

A "secret" oil dumping site in Venice, separate from the spraying operation, was referred to by a

Drowns in lake

GRANITE CITY — Authorities were continuing their search early this week for the body of an 18-year-old East St. Louis man who drowned in Horseshoe Lake Sunday evening.

Terrance T. Willis drowned when he was wading in the lake at about 7:10 p.m. with two men near Quality Sand Inc., 392 Layton Road, in the Bend Road area.

He stepped into a deep area, Illinois State Police said.

HIS COMPANIONS, Melvin Johnson, 18, and Charles Jackson, 19, both of East St. Louis, tried to assist Mr. Willis, police said.

However, he panicked and struggled with the men, they said.

When the two failed to rescue Willis, they swam to shore to call for help, authorities said.

FIVE AREA diving teams assisted in the search for his body, police said, but gave up at 2:30 a.m. Monday.

They scheduled the search to resume later on Monday.

Principal position to be filled

By Dave Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Four candidates, all employees of District 9, have applied for the Granite City High School principal's post.

The position has been vacant since former principal Gilbert Walmsley was named District 9 superintendent Aug. 5.

THE FOUR are Ken Spalding, principal at Grigsby junior high; Pat Schuman and Vic Buehler, assistant principals at the high school; and Alfred Leavell, an elementary teacher.

The Board of Education went into an executive session at a special meeting Monday evening to conduct interviews.

Participating also was a faculty-administrative committee, mostly from the high school level.

THE BOARD was expected to

Reviews and previews

Park annexes city land

The Granite City Park District Board annexed property that had been recently annexed by the city. The annexation will make the Park District's service boundaries nearly coterminous with the city's. The move will give added tax revenues to the district and will allow for future growth of parks and recreation. Other annexations by the city and the district are likely.

Ambulance service may end

Madison residents may lose the city-supported ambulance service as a result of cost-cutting measures. The possibility was discussed at last week's City Council meeting. Cutting the service was one of three cost-cutting options discussed. The council talked of using a private ambulance service instead of spending a projected $50,000 a year for the city's.

Erway quits city post

Granite City's Emergency Services and Disaster Agency coordinator Dick Erway quit the post last week. Erway said he resigned because the position was not a full-time job and because of his new duties as director of food service for Granite City School District 9. No replacement for Erway has been named. Erway was chosen for the ESDA position last November.

50 years ago

Thursday, Aug. 16, 1936

Work was started yesterday by the McKinley street car line, preparing for construction of the Venice viaduct. Construction could take nine months to complete. More than $360,000 in contracts have been awarded to various contractors on the project.

Tell it like it is

Q: Is annexation important to the economic growth of this area or will it mean a future tax burden to those areas being annexed?

Jan Bain

"I've gone back and forth on this (annexation issue). I don't know what is best. I can see both points of view. I'm a bit confused. Each side is so convincing."

Nameoki

Clifford Black

"I'm against it for the high taxes as much as anything. I pay enough taxes already. I know they (taxes) will be higher in the city. I figure if they annex us in the city, I will be helping to pay for Granite City sewers. I don't want to do that."

Nameoki

NEXT WEEK: Should mandatory drug testing be required for certain types of jobs in District 9 schools? If so, what types of jobs?

To record your answer, phone 432-0222 between 5:30 p.m. and 8 a.m. daily. Leave your name, hometown and phone number for verification purposes.

Quote of the week

"I tried to get him a full-time job, but there were too many votes 'again' me," said 1st Ward Alderman Everett Morien about the resignation of Granite City's ESDA coordinator, Dick Erway.

Tip of the hat

Anna Claggett

Venice resident Anna Claggett is recognized this week for volunteering to teach people to read. Claggett, a mother of four, Belleville Area College student and Venice Park Board president, finds time in her busy schedule to tutor people, young and old, whose reading ability is low. Claggett became interested in tutoring non-readers through "Project Read," an adult literacy program that trains volunteer tutors. Her reading group meets regularly in the New Salem Baptist Church in Venice.

Army land to port gets GSA approval

By David Gosnell
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The proposed sale of federal property to the Tri-City Regional Port District is expected to be approved by the U.S. Congress soon.

But other congressional action may threaten the Port District's ability to issue tax-exempt revenue bonds.

The district's offer to pay $912,500 for 104 acres of excess property at the Army's St. Louis Area Support Center here was accepted by the Federal General Services Administration (GSA), the property arm of the government. The GSA has recommended to Congress approval of the sale, said Port District general manager Robert Wydra.

CONGRESS is expected to act on the matter within 45 days, Wydra said.

The property transfer includes an agreement between the district and Fox Industries Inc., of 1603 State St., whereby Fox will pay for most of the purchase.

In return, Fox will have a lease on three warehouses on the property and will operate the district's Foreign Trade Zone 31 expansion site on Site 1 of a planned industrial park.

Part ($182,500) of a $2.5 million loan to the district from Continental Bank of Illinois will be used as a down payment on the property.

THE TRANSACTIONS involving private financing are separate from the GSA agreement.

There was a concern by Wydra that interest rates for property payments expected by the GSA may be higher than Illinois law allows for buyers of revenue bonds. The district's loan with Continental Bank involves an 18-month, long-term bond financing arrangement.

But Wydra said he was assured by the GSA that interest rates would not jeopardize the sale.

In a related development, the new tax bill being formulated in Congress may set limits on tax exemptions for projects being funded by selling revenue bonds.

CURRENT TAX LAW allows tax exemptions for interest received by revenue bond buyers.

Where food's scarce, people are not

Most babies are being born in areas of the Earth where there is the least food to feed them.

In Africa, the production of food has been trailing the production of babies for the past 20 years. Food output is up 2.5 percent but population is up 3.5 percent.

One by one the African nations threw out their colonial rulers, demanding for themselves "independence."

Most have ended up "dependent" on a home-grown dictator and worse off than before.

Before the time of independence, in the early 1960s, Africa produced almost 95 percent of its food.

Today every country in Africa, except South Africa, must import food. And whatever the next government of South Africa, history says it is not going to be an improvement.

Rhodesia, in southern Africa, at our urging, overthrew its white-ruled government in 1979 and renamed itself Zimbabwe.

The new president, Mugabe, has been infinitely more brutal in suppressing opposition than the predecessor government.

Mugabe calls himself a "socialist," but his allegiance and alliances are Moscow-Marxist.

Since Zimbabwe's independence, the United States has supplied that country $370 million yet the Mugabe government is now biting the hand that fed it.

On the Fourth of July, in the capital city of Harare, the foreign minister of Zimbabwe made such a vehement anti-American speech that our ambassador and our former President Jimmy Carter got up and walked out.

Our State Department has been demanding an apology, so far I have heard none.

Former President Carter called the speech "an insult to my country, and an insult to me, personally."

Now we come to South Africa — the only one left of all African nations which is still self-sustaining.

Racial polarization is accelerating.

Outsiders fan the flames of revolution. Many demoralized whites are contemplating salvaging what they can and getting out.

Tribal factions in South Africa are already warring with one another, each seeking to position itself to harvest the spoils. The political middle ground is being eroded from right and left.

South Africa's Botha says he would accept any change as long as it is accomplished without violence. But there is a hunger in Africa beyond the hunger for food: a hunger for power. And that hunger is insatiable.

Father Jenco showed his faith

To the editor:

Father Lawrence Martin Jenco is free — free from his dark captivity in Lebanon. I am very happy to be able to utter those words after more than 18 months of agonizing with his family and working for his release.

What is foremost in my mind today, however, is the incredible faith that Father Jenco's family maintained throughout this ordeal.

His sisters and brothers, nieces and nephews never gave up hope, and their determination inspired us all.

There is a message in all of this, of course. The message is that more can be accomplished through humanity than through hatred and violence.

I tried to convey this message in a videotape which was aired July 16 on Lebanese television.

In this videotape, I told the Lebanese terrorists that the hostages they hold have done nothing to harm them; their people or their political cause. I implored the terrorists to treat their hostages with humanity and dignity until they release them.

I told the Lebanese terrorists and all of the Lebanese people that simple humane action will be far more effective than violence can ever be.

Perhaps they took this message to heart when they released Father Jenco. We can only pray that the Islamic Jihad — the group still holding Terry Anderson, David Jacobsen and Thomas Sutherland — is not serious when they say the release of Father Jenco is their last humanitarian gesture.

However, we cannot be truly happy, nor can we rest, while there are still United States citizens held as captives in Lebanon and other foreign countries.

We know only too well that the U.S. citizens held as hostages are innocent. We know too well that they are helpless victims in a larger struggle.

It is our job, then, never to let the criminals who imprison our fellow citizens forget what an unjust, inhumane and ineffective route of political action they have chosen.

While these terrorists continue to demonstrate political violence against our country, we must continue to urge them to be compassionate to their prisoners — men and women who have "no part" in the political issues involved.

Communication must continue — at whatever opportunity, in whatever forum.

The families of the hostages have done their part. They continue to speak to anyone who will listen, urging the release of their loved ones, and it is these human, non-political pleas that seem to have reached the captors, at least those captors of Father Jenco.

I am deeply sorry that my colleague, Congressman George O'Brien, did not live to share this joyous time with his constituents, and friends, the Jenco family. Mr. O'Brien cared deeply about this matter, and worked diligently to see the hostages freed.

With diligent effort, one day our country will be free of the grip of senseless political violence. My colleagues and I are pledged to work hard to see that day arrive.

VP bus problem not Bi-State's fault

To the editor:

There has been much written in Madison County newspapers recently about the VP Fair, with reporters sort of lumping all the problems together, and then through statements by interviewees, conveying the impression that they were all Bi-State's fault.

At the request of the Madison County Transit District, Bi-State agreed to provide special service from Edwardsville and Alton to the VP Fair. This service was provided and generally everything went very well.

The exception was after the fireworks each night, when the hundreds of thousands of people who gathered during the day all left at once, creating a massive traffic jam.

The sheer numbers of people flooding the streets prevented buses and cars from moving for about the first half hour and then cars took over as the big obstacle for the next hour.

On July 4, all available Illinois Bi-State buses were used after the fireworks. All passengers who rode in by bus were taken home, although some left downtown St. Louis as late as 1:15 a.m.

Bi-State supervisors and managers patrolled the streets to make sure that everyone got home.

Missouri buses couldn't be used for Illinois passengers because Missouri buses do not have Illinois license plates and are, therefore, prohibited from operating in Illinois.

When all the Illinois buses were filled, they were sent on their way and returned to downtown St. Louis for a second trip. Some people were forced to wait for the buses to return, thus the 1:15 a.m. departure.

On July 5 and 6, everyone was out of downtown before midnight.

There were some incidents in the downtown area involving youth gangs. Bi-State has neither the authority nor the responsibility for maintaining order on the streets. That job falls to the police department.

Indications are that more police will be used next year by deputizing police and sheriff's deputies from other jurisdictions.

Bi-State and the Transit Districts of Madison and St. Clair will, next month, seek the aid of the VP Fair organization, the City of St. Louis and the police in finding a better staging area and exit route for Illinois buses to use in next year's fair.

With their help, we should be able to provide better service next year by getting out of the downtown area quicker.

We apologize to anyone who rode with us to the 1980 VP Fair and had an unpleasant experience.

And to the many who rode with us and had a pleasant experience, we are glad that we helped you enjoy the fair.

Wood River, Mitchell test stations busiest in Illinois

The Wood River vehicle emission testing station is by far the busiest in the state, an Illinois Environmental Protection Agency spokesman has revealed.

A computer analysis of "lane utilization" of the three Metro-East stations and 11 in the Chicago Metropolitan area, showed Wood River had the highest at 90.8 percent, said IEPA spokesman Will Flower. The next busiest was the Mitchell testing station at 69.1 percent, he said.

The East St. Louis testing station (open five days a week) was the least busiest, at only a 21.3 percent utilization rate, with the Chicago stations ranging from 32 to 65 percent, Flower added.

The Wood River station is open only two days a week, Wednesday and Friday, less than any of the other stations.

Flower said in the past four days he had been working at the IEPA information booth at the Illinois State Fair and Madison County residents attending the fair had complained to him about the "hassle" of long lines at the Wood River station.

"I can understand their point of view, especially during the hot weather we had last month," Flower said.

He planned to forward the complaints to the IEPA program manager.

However, Flower said the agency still has no current plans or has made any decision about opening the Wood River station additional days.

"We do sense interest on the part of the public in getting that open more," he said.

A total of 2,471 cars were tested at the Wood River station during July up from the 2,092 tests in June.

The Mitchell station, which is open Tuesday, Thursday and part of Saturday, did 2,584 tests in July. East St. Louis did only 1,446 in July. Statewide, 77.6 percent of the vehicles passed the tailpipe emission tests in July, about the same ratio since the program began in May.

About 47 percent of the vehicle owners that had been requested to come in for tests during July, actually did so, slightly better than the previous two months but still less than the IEPA had hoped, Flower said.

"At the end of this month the stickers we sent out in May expire, so it will be interesting to see how many comply," he added.

Flower also clarified the IEPA's earlier action in sending out "exempt" stickers to vehicle owners who had been erroneously first notified in May to bring in their cars for testing.

Vehicle owners living in exempt areas do not have to display the "exempt" stickers on their own information," he said.

Regional role for Vadalabene on Mississippi River parkway panel

State Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene was elected co-pilot of the Mississippi River Parkway Commission on Aug. 12 at the annual meeting held in Vicksburg, Miss. He headed the Illinois delegation to the event.

The senator said, "This office is in recognition of the leadership of the state of Illinois in promoting the Mississippi."

He cited "excellent cooperation" by several departments of the Illinois state government, including the Department of Transportation, Department of Conservation, Department of Commerce and Community Affairs and Illinois Historical Preservation Agency, which work together to promote tourism and commercial development along the river.

Vadalabene is the coordinating officer (co-pilot) for Region 3 of the commission, which includes Illinois, Missouri and Kentucky.

Quarterly meetings among these states are expected. The Parkway Commission states comprise the 10 states bordering the Mississippi River plus the province of Ontario, Canada.

"The present emphasis by the Commission is to establish a national heritage corridor for the entire length of the river."

Kenneth E. Stobaugh, director of the Joseph Smith Historic Center at Nauvoo, Ill., was elected to the board of directors of the Great River Road Association.

Mrs. Joan O'Neill from the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, Springfield, was appointed to the promotion committee of the Parkway Commission.

"This important committee has the responsibility for all joint advertising and all cooperative promotion programs for tourism among the 10 states along the Mississippi River," the senator said.

Area couples receive 19 marriage licenses

Fined and placed on probation in drug case

John W. Lindsey, 21, of 2232 Grand Ave. pleaded guilty and was sentenced July 21 on a charge of unlawful delivery of cannabis.

Lindsey was sentenced by Madison County Associate Judge Charles Roman Jr. to two years' probation and was ordered to pay a $300 fine, $30 special costs and $60 court costs.

GC native ETC coordinator

GRANITE CITY — A Granite City native has been selected as coordinator of the Educational Training Center in Granite City.

Robert Burkett-Thomas, 40, was selected by the center's personnel committee at an Aug. 11 meeting.

The ETC, which is housed at the former Lake grade school in Granite City, is a countywide program for children with behavioral learning disabilities. The center serves about 30 children.

Burkett-Thomas is a Granite City High School graduate. He holds a master's degree in education from Northern Illinois University, an educational specialist degree from SIUE and a doctorate in psychology from Elyson University in Baha, Calif.

The ETC staff includes teachers, counselors and therapists.

It is one of three county programs offering services to children with behavioral disorders.

State benefits fraud alleged

Dick R. Mizell, 42, of Granite City, a former Madison County deputy coroner, was indicted Thursday in Edwardsville on charges of illegally receiving state unemployment compensation.

Chief Criminal Division Judge Charles Chapman set bonds totaling $10,000.

An arraignment date will be set and a plea entered at that time. The case probably will be placed in the court docket for this fall, the judge said Friday.

Mizell, of the 2000 block of Madison Avenue, was indicted on two counts of state benefits fraud and one count of perjury. He could not be reached for comment Friday.

One fraud charge against Mizell alleges he received more than $800 in unemployment compensation from the Illinois Department of Employment Security for the week of Aug. 26-27, 1985, when he allegedly was employed by Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontion Road, where he still works.

The perjury charge alleges Mizell signed a claim certificate stating he had no income for that period.

The second fraud count alleges he illegally got benefits during the period from April 2 to Aug. 27, 1983.

The felony charges stemmed from a statewide investigation called Operation Two-Timer, which was started in January by the Illinois attorney general's office. A total of 125 indictments resulted from the investigation.

Crawford named to park board

By Valerie Evenden

Staff writer
Alfred Dale Crawford, a native of Venice, was appointed to the Venice Board of Park Commissioners at its meeting Thursday night.

This is the second time Crawford has been appointed to the park board. He was first named a commissioner in August 1975 and was elected to a six-year term in 1977.

AN ACTIVE participant in Venice Park District programs for the past 26 years, the new commissioner is employed as superintendent of maintenance of the city-owned McKinley Bridge.

Anna Caggett, board president, recommended Crawford to fill the unexpired term of the Rev. John Henry Williams.

Williams, a past park president, resigned from the park board in June.

CRAWFORD'S nomination was unanimously approved by board members and the new commissioner was immediately seated at Thursday's session.

"I've toned down a bit this year and I'm only coaching six (baseball) teams now," Crawford commented after the meeting.

He has coached as many as 13 Venice Little League teams at one time in summer months.

THESE DUTIES have really kept him "running," he said, smiling. Crawford also has organized softball and basketball teams on which both parents and children participated.

Alfred Crawford

He is credited with initiating the Venice Little League and organizing senior citizen bowling events and women's and "tiny tots" basketball programs.

HIS EFFORTS in the recreational arena on behalf of Venice area children have been formally recognized with numerous awards, including plaques for outstanding contributions to youth from the City of Venice and the U.S. Park League.

Crawford, 55, served as Lee Park superintendent in the 1970s and also was an assistant recreation director for the park for a period of time.

Born on Kerr Island in Venice, he attended school in the community and later graduated from Madison High School.

HE AND HIS WIFE, Frances, are the parents of two sons, Alfred "Scooter" Crawford Jr., 25, who is employed by the U. S. Postal Service at the St. Louis post office, and Avery, 22, who works at Center Bank in St. Louis.

Crawford received congratulations from Mrs. Caggett, fellow board members and others attending Thursday's meeting.

Briggs gets endorsed

The Democratic Party's candidate for Madison County regional superintendent of schools, Harry Briggs Jr., was endorsed recently by the 21st District AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

Bridge work continuing

EAST ST. LOUIS — The Illinois Department of Transportation reports continuing bridge painting work atop roadways on the Poplar Street Bridge complex. The work will continue until Aug. 22 at the following locations:

• I-55/70 eastbound and westbound, airlines
• Illinois 3 southbound exit off the I-55/70 westbound collector distributor.

Daytime lane restrictions will be necessary during normal working hours to facilitate this work.

Notice of Closure

A plan to close the Midwestern Drain Service, Inc. hazardous waste drum storage facility located in Venice, Illinois, has been submitted to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) pursuant to Subpart G of 25 Ill. Adm. Code 725. At this time the IEPA is also requesting that the facility provide information concerning any prior release of hazardous waste constituents from any solid waste management facility on the site.

Interested persons are invited to submit written comments on the plan or request modifications of the plan or provide information on the release, at any time, of hazardous waste constituents from the facility, within 30 days of the first publication date of this notice. Written comments must be addressed to the IEPA, Attention: Public Notice Clerk, 2200 Churchhill Road, Springfield, Illinois 62706.

The site must be closed in accordance with the standards set forth in the Environmental Protection Act, Ill. Rev. Stat., Ch. 111 1/2, Pars. 1001 et seq., and regulations adopted thereunder.

The proposed closure plan, closure performance requirements, and other documents are available for inspection and may be copied at a cost of 25 cents per page at the IEPA's Springfield headquarters. These documents are also available for inspection and copying from the DPLC Field Manager at the Illinois State Field Office, 2007 Mail St., Collinsville, Illinois 62234 (618/345-4600).

In response to requests or at the discretion of the IEPA, a public hearing may be held to clarify one or more issues concerning the closure plan. Public notice will be issued 30 days before any public hearing.

Bridge engineering will begin

Illinois Gov. James R. Thompson and Missouri Gov. John D. Ashcroft announced Thursday that Illinois will be undertaking nearly $1 million in engineering work needed for rehabilitation of the Martin Luther King Bridge as part of an Illinois-Missouri agreement. They met at the bridge in East St. Louis.

The engineering work was part of an overall accord unveiled by the two governors for $20 million in repair and reconstruction of the bridge, leading toward the overall renovation of the entire M.L. King road complex, linking it to the Interstate highway system.

COOPERATION by bridge bondholders is being sought. Thompson said, "It has been a long and difficult task to reach this critical agreement. It could not have been achieved without cooperation on both sides of the Mississippi and the dedicated efforts of the St. Louis-Mississippi River Bridges Panel.

The panel deserves a great deal of credit and should be recognized for its efforts, as does East St. Louis Mayor Carl Officer, who was instrumental in securing the resolution allowing the bridge to be taken over by the two states.

Local officials from St. Clair and Madison counties and St. Louis also are to be commended.

THEIR WORK and the financial contributions from each of their areas will preserve the M.L. King Bridge as a vital bridge access to both sides of the river.

The Mississippi River should not be a barrier between our two states, but an economic bond. The development of the St. Louis area and southwestern Illinois are intertwined. In the future, we will need this same kind of cooperation to assure economic growth and jobs for both states.

Gov. Ashcroft said, "It's vitally important for federal discretionary funds to be obtained for the King bridge improvement work."

"Without these funds this important transportation link will not become a reality," Ashcroft said.

THE COMMENDABLE cooperation among local, state and federal government officials cannot end here. The St. Louis metropolitan area's economic future will be much brighter if we continue the kind of cooperation necessary for this project to become a reality.

"Today marks the beginning rebirth of the Martin Luther King Bridge. Although much remains to be done, particularly in Washington, D.C., we have an opportunity for the bridge to serve Missouri and Illinois well into the 21st Century."

"The cooperative spirit we have seen in this project represents the vision we need to improve the economic growth potential for both states," Ashcroft said.

Thompson said, "Missouri Congressman Robert Young has taken the lead in seeking federal discretionary bridge funds which are vital if the two states are to make the necessary improvements to the bridge. Gov. Ashcroft and I will work with our respective congressional delegations in an effort to obtain those funds."

UNDER TERMS of the agreement, the bridge must be free of debt and the title to the bridge must be conveyed to the states of Illinois and Missouri before funding provisions for Missouri are implemented.

Toward that end, Dr. Ronald Thompson, chairman of the St. Louis-Mississippi River Bridges Panel and also president of the not-for-profit Martin Luther King Bridge Improvement Corp., said the corporation would commence a tender offer Aug. 15 to acquire the bonds.

He also said that, in connection with the tender offer, terms have been discussed with representatives of bondholders who hold 61 percent of the bonds. The latter have indicated they will tender their bonds and recommend that others also accept the offer.

After the tender offer expires, the corporation will purchase the bonds for the bridge, with local governments on both sides of the Mississippi River contributing funds to retire the debt on the bonds.

A TOTAL of $250,000 has been pledged by the Madison County Transit District and $500,000 by the St. Clair County Transit District.

The agreement also provides that:

• Illinois will be the lead agency for the design, construction and maintenance work. It will provide two-thirds of the estimated $1 million for the engineering work and Missouri will provide the remaining one-third. The Illinois Department of Transportation will be soliciting consultants, and engineering work is expected to begin in September. The development of contract plans is expected to take six to eight months.

• Illinois will provide 75 percent of the required matching funds for any federal discretionary bridge grant for the initial rehabilitation.

• Missouri will be the lead state in seeking the federal discretionary bridge funds and will share the cost of day-to-day maintenance and future improvement costs upon completion of the rehabilitation work.

• Each state will be responsible for any necessary work on its own approaches to the M.L. King Bridge. IF OBTAINED, the federal funds plus the matching dollars from Illinois and Missouri would finance rehabilitation of the bridge and also pay for improved connections on both sides of the Mississippi River.

Total cost of rehabilitating the bridge and the new connections is estimated at $50 million. Thompson cited Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer and Jerry Costello, chairman of the St. Clair County Board, for their individual work.

MEMBERS of the bridge panel appointed by the two governors in January 1986 are:

Chairman of the panel, Dr. Ronald Thompson of St. Louis, president of General Railroad Equipment and Service Inc., Earl Lazerson of Edwardsville, president of SIUE, former Illinois State Rep. Les Stehl of Belleville, director of economic development, Belleville Economic Progress.

Also, Robert Hyland, regional vice president, CBS radio; and former St. Louis Mayor John Poelker.

Registration keeping pace

Fall semester registration at Belleville Area College is keeping pace with last year's statistics. Credit hours at BAC's three campuses and extension centers now represent a one-tenth of 1 percent decline from fall 1985.

Fall registration runs through Aug. 23. Students may register from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays through Fridays at BAC's Belleville Campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, and Granite City Campus, 4950 Maryville Road.

Students also may register until 10 p.m. Wednesdays at the Belleville campus. Campus offices of basic education, registrar, business, financial aid and counseling also will remain open.

"We are staying open later for the convenience of the students," said Dennis Sparr, BAC's dean of counseling and human development.

"It's been a huge success." During a two-hour period on a recent Wednesday night, 33 people registered for 254 credit hours.

Sparr said, "Saturday registration will be Aug. 23 at all three campuses."

Sparr said large numbers of students are taking the free ASSET (Assessment of Skills for Successful Entry and Transfer) program. ASSET is an assessment, advisement and orientation program designed to help students determine their course needs.

A special ASSET program will be given from noon to 3:30 p.m. Aug. 25 at the Belleville Campus.

Kroger to open doors Aug. 22

The Kroger Co. will open a new 40,000 square foot food and drug store at 20 Namoki Village Shopping Center in Granite City on Friday, Aug. 22, at 9 a.m.

The new Granite City store is the first of five new stores The Kroger Co. is opening in the greater St. Louis area during the next year.

"We are very proud to be opening this new store to replace our old store in Granite City," said Bob Hodge, vice president of Kroger's Gateway Marketing Area. "One of our priorities is to serve grocery consumers with the most modern and full-service food store, and this new store in Namoki Village Shopping Center will certainly better serve the greater Granite City area with the best of everything."

Eleven departments are featured within the new store. In addition to the meat, produce and grocery departments, the store will contain a full-service pharmacy, delicatessen, pastry shoppe, cheese shoppe, floral shoppe, fresh seafood shoppe, salad bar, cosmetic/fragrance center, and even an in-store restaurant.

The pharmacy will feature a complete line of quality pharmaceuticals. "Fast, friendly service is the hallmark of the Kroger pharmacy," Hodge said.

In addition to filling prescriptions and fulfilling pharmaceutical needs, the Kroger pharmacy provides family record keeping, will mail prescriptions anywhere, honors all third-party prescription plans, and maintains patient profiles to note drug allergies and catch possible drug interactions. Free electronic blood pressure testing is also available in the pharmacy.

The Kroger delicatessen offers a vast assortment of gourmet meats, fresh cold cuts and luncheon meats, as well as hors d'oeuvres, salad and dips. Assorted party trays of various sizes are also available from the delicatessen.

In the pastry shoppe are a number of fresh baked breads including European crusty bread, rolls, cakes, pastries and cookies.

A new line of fancy desserts made with real whipped cream will seek to tempt those with a sweet tooth. Personalized cakes for birthdays, anniversaries and other special occasions are custom-made in the pastry shoppe.

The new Granite City store has a floral department offering quality fresh-cut and silk custom arrangements and even special occasion helium balloons for use as gifts. Delivery service is available from the floral shoppe to the Granite City area.

Kroger's floral department is complete with florist-quality bouquets, plants and arrangements.

Fresh seafood is available every day in the new Kroger store's seafood shoppe. Fresh catfish fillets, New Zealand orange roughy, mussels, shrimp, and live Maine lobsters are just a few of the seafood varieties that will add options to meal planning.

Seafood platters from Kroger's seafood shoppe are seen as the key ingredient to make special occasions a success.

Within the store is Barney's Cafe, a place to relax and enjoy meals any time of the day. Customers will enjoy an "all you can eat" breakfast buffet open every morning. At lunch and dinner time, the cafe offers hot entrees and the widely known 4x4 sandwich.

"The service center is a new convenience our customers will really appreciate," said Dave Burg, unit manager.

It combines next-day photo finishing and film supplies with movie rentals. A line of popular fragrances with free gift wrapping will also be featured at the service center.

Burg, formerly the manager of the old Granite City Kroger store, will head the team at the new store as unit manager.

Scott Cossiboom is grocery non-foods manager. Mark Polster and Mike Bersett will join the Granite City team as grocery non-foods manager, perishable, and customer service manager, respectively.

Ribbon-cutting ceremonies will be held at 9 a.m. at the new store.

McCabe is sentenced to 30 years in prison

EDWARDSVILLE — A former Pontoon Beach man, now living in Collinsville, has been sentenced to 30 years in prison on six felony charges in connection with the 1985 rape of a Pontoon Beach woman.

Jerry Lee McCabe, 32, was sentenced Friday, Aug. 15, by Madison County Circuit Judge Charles W. Chapman, chief of the Criminal Court division, on three counts of aggravated criminal assault, plus home invasion, armed robbery and aggravated kidnapping. McCabe pleaded guilty to the charges April 14.

The charges were filed against McCabe after he attacked a 35-year-old Pontoon Beach woman at 1 a.m. March 22, 1985.

McCabe entered the woman's home, armed with a knife, and assaulted her twice.

He tied her hands behind her back and drove her car to the Lewis and Clark State Park, Illinois 3 at the Hartford Canal, where he assaulted her again before a Madison County sheriff's deputy arrived at the scene and recognized him.

McCabe has previous convictions for unlawful restraint in Madison County in 1984 and felony theft in Florida in 1980. A rape charge in connection with the Florida case was dropped.

A 1978 rape conviction in Madison County involving a Granite City woman was overturned on appeal. McCabe was acquitted at a second trial in 1980.

Given jail term for Pontoon area theft

Doyle Cutright, 18, of 3801 Lake Drive, Lot 320, Pontoon Beach, pleaded guilty and was sentenced July 16 on a reduced charge of theft of more than $300 value.

Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill sentenced Cutright to four months in jail and 2½ years of probation, and ordered him to pay $90 court costs.

An original charge of burglary was filed April 7 following an investigation by Pontoon Beach police.

Given probation for delivery of cannabis

Rudolph D. Muzzarelli, 26, of 3313 Bluebird Lane, pleaded guilty and was sentenced July 22 on two counts of unlawful delivery of cannabis.

Madison County Circuit Judge Charles Chapman sentenced Muzzarelli to two years' probation and ordered him to pay a $120 fine, $12 in special costs and $180 in court costs. The charge was filed Jan. 30 after an investigation by the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois.

Probation sentence on plea to battery

Charles Haynes Jr., 24, of 603 Bissell Apartments, Venice, pleaded guilty and was sentenced July 18 on a reduced allegation of battery.

Haynes was sentenced by Madison County Associate Judge Charles Bonomi Jr. to one year probation, with the last 60 days to be spent in jail. Haynes was also ordered to pay $37 in court costs.

An original charge of aggravated battery was filed June 24 after an investigation by Venice police.

PAINT SPRAYED ON TRUCKS

Yvette Fritts, 2849 Edgewood Ave., told police Aug. 13 someone sprayed orange paint on the driver's side of both of her trucks. The vehicles were parked on the street on the north side of her home at the time of the incident.

PURSE TAKEN FROM CAR

Janet Davis, 2230 Shirlene Drive, said Aug. 14 a burglar took her purse from her parked car in the 1700 block of Primrose Avenue. The purse contained Davis' driving license, bank account books, credit cards, keys and $50 cash.

select one of the four candidates at its regular meeting Tuesday night. Wainwright said he would recommend a candidate to the board from the applicants.

Spalding is a former assistant principal at the high school. Wainwright said that, because he had worked closely with several of the applicants, a recommendation would be easier to make.

"It puts me in a first-hand position to make the best recommendation," he said.

Board President Dewey Melton said a rating system was being used as the committee and board evaluated the applicants.

If Congress eliminates the exemptions, the bonds would be less attractive, said Wydra. The action could mean less future borrowing ability for the district.

But Wydra said U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon, D-Belleville, has agreed to speak for the district during House-Senate conference committee discussions on the issue.

He said Dixon was offering "no promises" but would urge conferees to "grandfather in" the tax exemption.

"We might have a shot at getting our bonds exempted," said Wydra.

Responsible behavior urged

Continuation and expansion in Madison County of the National Urban League's Male Responsibility Campaign — aimed at encouraging responsible sexual behavior among adolescent black males — has been assured through a $25,000 grant from the Illinois Department of Public Health.

In the spring of 1985, the National Urban League launched the Male Responsibility Campaign, utilizing dramatic posters, print ads and radio commercials by musical artist James Ingram and Howard Hewitt. These have reached hundreds of thousands of young black males with the message, "Don't Make A Baby If You Can't Be A Father," and have been widely acclaimed by the media, youth-serving agencies and professionals who work with young people as a "positive approach in dealing with a difficult problem," said Roger J. Lyons, Madison County Urban League executive director.

"The rationale for selecting this specific target audience is that it takes two to create a third human being, and all too often the focus is on the woman, and not on both the male and female partners. No consideration of teenage pregnancies can be relevant if it does not include the assessment of the male role. Male responsibility and fathering are of equal importance with female responsibility."

"We recognize that this is a straight-forward, hard-hitting message that represents a new approach. The statistics clearly indicate that other approaches aren't working as well as we had hoped."

"Now we have to speak frankly to our young black males and tell them that being a teenage father does not make you a man, and the smart thing to do is to avoid further problems at every age."

"The Madison County Urban League is not in this alone. We are reaching out to other community groups and asking them to join in this campaign in whatever way they can so that, together, we can turn the tide."

State to continue its health research

Gov. James R. Thompson announced late last week he has ordered a halt to the planned closure of the Illinois State Psychiatric Institute, the Illinois Institute for Developmental Disabilities and the Institute for Juvenile Research. The closings would have halted state mental health research.

Thompson acted after conferring with legislative leaders, who said they would work with him to find the necessary funds for additional appropriations in the November session of the General Assembly.

"The closure decisions were not lightly or easily made and the state budget is extremely tight," the governor said. "Director Kiley and I agree that direct patient care is the fundamental obligation and must come first."

Thompson said he would name a task force that would include representatives from the legislature, the medical community, the university community, and mental health and parents groups to advise him and the legislature on the long-term future of the institutes.

"We need answers to questions about where research of this kind ought to be done," the governor said, "whether within the department, as has traditionally been done, or within allied areas of university research."

Thompson said he was grateful for the pledge of support from the legislative leadership and thanked the community, medical parents groups for raising the issues which led him to reverse the department's decision.

He denied he was reacting to criticism by Adlai Stevenson, his election opponent.

Arthritis, diabetes medicine for aged

Two bills supported by Rep. Sam W. Wolf, D-Granite City, to assist senior citizens with their diabetes and arthritis medication and offer them greater protection from home repair fraud were signed into law at the Illinois State Fair.

The Pharmaceutical Assistance Act, passed last year to help the needy with the cost of prescription heart medication, has proved so successful that the General Assembly expanded the program to include medication for arthritis and diabetes sufferers.

"Senior citizens who qualify for the Circuit Breaker Tax Relief Program can obtain the prescription they need for diabetes and arthritis with no out-of-pocket expense," Wolf said.

"The plan offers a great deal of relief for those who are presently suffering because they have no money to pay for the medication they require."

"To qualify for the expanded program, $80 is deducted from a qualifying senior's annual Circuit Breaker grant."

"In addition, we have designed legislation which will put teeth in the laws against home repair fraud, giving law enforcement officials the backing they need to crack down on those who prey upon the elderly," Wolf said.

"Not only will we be able to fine them for overcharges and/or unnecessary work, but we will increase regulations and make it more difficult for unscrupulous persons to get in the door in the first place."

Conferences on health care

A series of conferences on nursing and pharmacology will be held on Sept. 25 and Nov. 7 at St. Louis University School of Nursing.

The two one-day seminars will provide nurses with an update on new, as well as currently prescribed, medications. The guest lecturer will be Frederick Pfeiffer, Pharm.D., a clinical pharmacist at St. Louis State Hospital.

Seven contact hours will be awarded by the American Nurses Association upon completion of each course. Registration information can be obtained by contacting Dr. Irene Kalins, program director, continuing nursing education, St. Louis U. School of Nursing, 3525 Caroline St., St. Louis, 63104 (telephone 1-314-377-8919).

$182 million earned by state

State Treasurer James H. Donnewald has announced that investment income on deposits of state funds during fiscal year 1986 was $182,592,676. Of this amount, $124,624,692 went into the general revenue fund.

"This interest income, which comes from having all funds at our disposal constantly invested, pays the operational costs for most state agencies," Donnewald said. "Only the several agencies which have large manpower needs—such as Mental Health, Transportation, Corrections, Children and Family Services or the Secretary of State's operations—are not funded from our interest income."

Interest income on other funds which the treasurer handles for special authorities, for example, must go back to the authorities. Funds available to the Treasurer for investment averaged $2.4 billion in the fiscal year ended June 30, the highest such average in the history of the treasurer's office, Donnewald said.

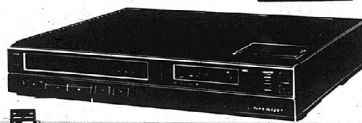

On the other hand, interest rates were on a steady decline during the entire year, going from an 8 percent rate last summer to a 6.75 percent average for June 1986. The result was a decline in interest income from the $294,682,618 generated during fiscal 1985.

All funds were deposited in Illinois financial institutions or invested in the commercial financial paper of corporations with major economic impact in Illinois.

Home loans offered

Gov. James R. Thompson announced a $60 million statewide home mortgage program Friday that offers the lowest interest rate ever offered by government in Illinois. It will finance new home purchases for 750 first-time buyers and create as many as 1,300 new construction jobs.

The Illinois Home Builder Program, sponsored by the Illinois Housing Development Authority (IHDA), offers qualified first-time home buyers mortgages at an 8.2 percent interest rate, the lowest rate IHDA has ever made available.

"The response to mortgage programs we've offered before this one has been almost overwhelming. Through programs like this, for example, government in Illinois has so far provided more than 15,000 single-family mortgages," the governor said.

"Those are the statistics of success. This latest program is a continuation of IHDA's construction program, an ambitious economic development project that works hand-in-hand with Build Illinois."

"The low interest rate of this latest offering benefits the moderate — and lower-income home buyer as well as the entire state by providing 1,300 home building jobs, millions of new tax dollars, and generating economic activity in other segments of the Illinois economy through the sale of construction materials and services," he said.

In a change from previous IHDA loan programs, interested home buyers must contact a participating home builder first, select a home and then be directed to a mortgage lender by the builder. Earlier programs required a home buyer to first contact the lender.

"We have taken a completely different approach to this mortgage program by giving the home builder the lead role," said Jim Kiley, IHDA's executive director. "The 8.2 percent interest rate, up-front builder participation and economic development impact will create a dynamic effect that I can only describe as exciting."

To meet the standard IHDA mortgage guidelines, an interested home buyer:

- Must be a first-time home buyer or not have owned a home as a principal residence in the previous three years.

- Must not have an annual gross household income above $35,300.

- Must have an acceptable credit history.

Home purchase prices must fall within categories that vary between targeted and non-targeted areas in three areas of Illinois. They include: St. Louis area (Clinton, Jersey, Madison, Monroe and St. Clair counties) — targeted area, $110,880; non-targeted area, $101,640.

The program the governor announced Friday attracted 36 home builders in Illinois who met legal and financial requirements. More than 170 builders responded to a statewide IHDA newspaper advertisement aimed at the construction trade.

While the Home Builder Program is limited to the construction of new homes, Kiley said 9.8 percent mortgage money is still available for the purchase of new and existing homes in the Build Illinois Low Interest Loan Program.

For information about either program, IHDA has a toll-free hotline: 1-800-942-8439, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Business license given to establish funeral home

By Norma Mendoza

Correspondent

PONTIAC BEACH — A business license to establish a funeral home was granted Thursday by the Village Board.

The license was granted to Barbara Werner and Gerald Ragan for the building at 3939 Lake Drive. The building was formerly used by the village police before they moved to Illinois 111.

The regular meeting of the Village Board was postponed to Thursday because of the lack of a quorum on Tuesday night.

In other action:

- A petition by Carl E. and Betty J. Hackney for the annexation of their property at 813 East Chain of Rocks Road was approved. The property was zoned B2 for general business.

- The board approved the $880 purchase of a five-year warranty on new police cars from Koetting Ford.

- The purchase of three new walkie-talkie radios for $1,365 was approved.

Night Lights.

Protect Your Home from Crime With an Illinois Power Nite-Lite

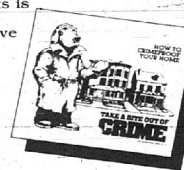

There are all kinds of night lights. Fireflies. Campfires. Twinkling stars. Or, police cars. But, one of the most welcome night lights is the security and safety provided by an Illinois Power Nite-Lite. It's an inexpensive way to help crimeproof your home and property, and put the spotlight on criminals.

Illinois Power Nite-Lite rentals start at less than $5.50 a month. The charge covers installation, maintenance and electricity. Often, this is less than the cost of the electricity alone used by similar customer-owned lights. So, light up and rest easier with an IP Nite-Lite.

A Free, Helpful Booklet

There are many ways to protect your home. Some are as simple as making sure ALL of your doors and windows are locked.

Find out more ways to crimeproof your home today with this free 18-page booklet "Take A Bite Out Of Crime." If you have questions about Nite-Lite Service or would like to receive a free copy of the booklet, please contact your Marketing Advisor at Illinois Power Company.

Gateway Academy registration now

Enrollment is under way at the Gateway Christian Academy. A ministry of Mount Zion General Baptist Church, Gateway is located at 2067 Benton St. Since its inception in 1976, the academy has sought to provide a high standard of Christian education, Mark R. Warren, the administrator, said.

Warren said emphasis is placed on training a child in the "nature and admonition of the Lord." "Christian character training is stressed along with academic achievement."

"Excellence in education is our goal, not just mental instruction but physical and spiritual, providing a child with specific direction and objectives," Warren said.

"The academy uses the Accelerated Christian Education curriculum, designed to train students to study independently, with guided instruction."

Enrollments are being accepted now. For more information, Warren can be reached at 876-6888.

The Statue of St. Louis is across from the entrance to the St. Louis Art Museum. For years the statue of the crusader king, Louis IX of France, has been the unofficial emblem of the City of St. Louis.

Meet the new St. Louis, see it in the fall

In the film classic Meet Me In St. Louis, a cherub-like Margaret O'Brien exclaims in wonderment only a child could muster: "Aren't I lucky to be born in my favorite city?"

Many St. Louisans share that sentiment and well they should. This vibrant river city blends the past and present in a way that's exciting, entertaining and sometimes controversial.

St. Louisans and visitors will see several new sights this fall. These attractions illustrate the city's ability to intrigue people with diverse interests.

■ The St. Louis riverfront has a new look this fall with Spirit of the River, an attractive family entertainment center in an authentic riverboat setting. Spirit of the River has three restaurants, an ice cream and candy shop, a gift shop and game room.

M/V City of St. Louis is a river barge renovated into an entertainment center.

■ St. Louis will kick off Christmas in a different fashion this year. The festival, Christmas in St. Louis, will bring the annual Christmas Carol Festival, Festival of the Trees, Dance St. Louis, production of "The Nutcracker" and the Great American Train Show to Kiel Auditorium downtown.

Downtown St. Louis will welcome Santa Claus and launch a promotional program that will light up the downtown area in twinkling lights. Organizers hope the festival will grow to the size of Kansas City's holiday festival.

■ Another festival that showcases art in St. Louis will have a new look. The expanded St. Louis Arts Festival in October will feature as many as 200 events at various locations.

The city's 13 major art and cultural institutions will all perform in their own facilities. The Arts and Education Council of Greater St. Louis and other organizations will perform in the Central West End, Plaza Frontenac and St. Louis Union Station.

Children's events and the works of local artists will also be highlighted during the festival.

■ Last year's big downtown shopping attractions, St. Louis Union Station and the works of local artists will also be highlighted during the festival.

There are so many sights to take in that many people find it very pleasant to meet in St. Louis.

Crown Center shines in heart of Kansas City

Crown Center, a redevelopment project at the southern edge of downtown Kansas City, is a prime example of private industry taking a leadership role in urban revitalization.

The privately-financed urban community is being developed by Hallmark Cards Inc. The development encompasses 85 acres surrounding the international headquarters of the Missouri-based greeting card firm.

When completed, Crown Center will be an investment of $500 million and have added 50 buildings to the city's skyline.

Already completed at Crown Center are two office complexes, the 730-room Westin Crown Center hotel and 733-room Hyatt Regency, a retail complex, several restaurants, a bank, children's art workshop, 10-acre central square, apartment and condominium community and structured parking for 5,000 cars.

Business Center
Crown Center's office environment, with five seven-story buildings, was completed in 1971. The complex overlooks the central square and was designed by Edward Larrabee Barnes.

A 28-story office tower and four-story satellite building completed in 1977 virtually doubled Crown Center's office space. Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co., headquartered in Newark, N.J., uses one-third of the building for its Western Home Office, while IBM uses another third for its consolidated Kansas City area operations. The remaining area is leased to outside firms.

Convention and Visitor Facilities
Crown Center has become a Midwestern convention spot and tourist destination. The two major hotels, Westin Crown Center and Hyatt Regency-Crown Center, offer visitors all the comforts of home.

The Westin Crown Center features a lobby garden carved from limestone, with tropical foliage, trees and a 60-foot waterfall. There are also three restaurants, indoor health clubs, recreational facilities, a swimming pool and a jogging track.

The 50 million Hyatt Regency-Crown Center is on the northeastern edge of the development. It features a 40-story guest tower, 60-foot high lobby, three-level building for meeting and recreational facilities, two lounges, three restaurants and the city's largest ballroom.

Retail Area
The Crown Center Shops consist of three levels of boutiques, specialty shops and restaurants covering 400,000 square feet. Largest of the retail outlets is Halls Crown Center, a 100,000 square foot specialty store. Atop Halls is the American Restaurant, featuring gourmet dishes evolving from our nation's heritage.

Residential Community
Crown Center West is a six-acre urban neighborhood including 140 garden apartments, 135 high-rise condominiums.

Tom Flynn Flys Fulfilling A Dream

One of the brighter lights in St. Louis nighttime entertainment is singer/guitarist Tom Flynn. And he's been delighting audiences here for nearly 20 years.

"I always wanted to be a performer, even when I was a little kid," Flynn says. "Back in the days when kids idolized baseball players, my heroes were always singers."

"My older sister bought all the Elvis Presley records. I used to stand in front of the mirror and mouth the words."

And singing is what Flynn loves best. He sang in glee clubs and choruses in high school, getting what little formal training was necessary for him to begin singing professionally.

"Today, he says, 'If you hope to make music your career, go to a good music school, get all the training you can. My one regret now is that I didn't do it.'"

Flynn says also that he has a versatile voice. "I have a range of about four octaves and you could compare me to high tenors like Roy Orbison or Gene Pitney. I can produce a raspy sound like Bob Seeger. Or I can sing with a lot of low vibrato like Elvis Presley."

Once out of school, Flynn launched his career singing road shows (as opposed to Broadway shows). With a road company he performed Jesus Christ Superstar, Tommy and Hair, doing a circuit of colleges in the East.

He worked with various rock groups around town, deciding eventually for various reasons that he preferred to work alone.

One of the reasons was that the cost of running a band—including the salaries of its road crew and traveling expenses—left little income for its members, he says.

"No matter what the group's getting paid, by the time it's split that many ways, each member finds himself just surviving," Flynn says. "You might make $50 a week."

"When I turned 30, I realized that all the other performers were younger—eight to 10 years younger," he says. "And young people don't want to learn from someone else's experience. They want to make their own mistakes. I just decided I didn't want to go through all that again."

That was when Flynn decided that "the band of the future"—solo performer on guitar with electronic drums—was the way he wanted to go.

"I do music from the 50s, the 60s, 70s and some new songs," Flynn says. "I play electric guitar and program the drums (snare, high hat and bass)."

"I can use a single rhythm throughout a song, or I can make it more complex. It sounds like a real drummer is playing."

Flynn says there are "trade-offs" involved in working alone. For one you have to do all the vocals yourself.

"But performing alone also gives you a certain freedom," he says. "You don't have to worry about anyone else's mistakes. And you have the option of doing requests."

"If you play with a band, chances are you will have 80 to 90 songs in your repertoire. This is pretty limiting, so most bands don't do requests. I have about 600 songs in my repertoire, and I do requests all night."

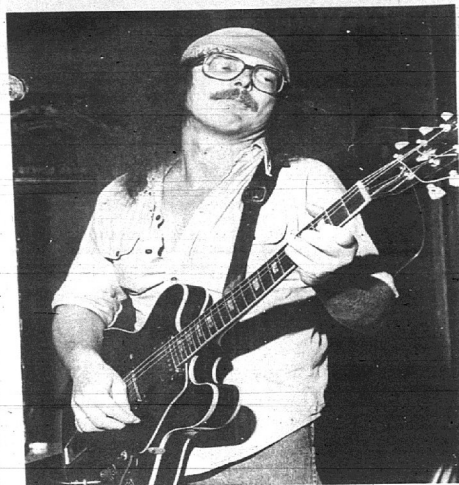

Many groups also trade off on vocals and, with breaks thrown in, sing about 35 songs a night, Flynn says.

"I don't take many breaks, and sing about 65 vocals a night," he adds.

Flynn is very definite about his particular gifts, and not at all reticent about discussing them.

"I'm just blind lucky in that I sing correctly. In this way, I don't strain my voice like many singers do."

"If I'm healthy, and don't sing when I've got a cold, my voice never gives me any trouble," Flynn says his goal is to keep performing. He might eventually put a band together, but for the time being he's enjoying the solo work.

Flynn currently performs alternate week-ends at Sundacker's on Laclede's Landing. He also performs at the Brew House on Lynch Street across from Anheuser-Busch. And very recently, he has begun a Wednesday night series at Lucky's on Manchester Road west county.

Kenny Rogers sings in Fox concerts

Kenny Rogers, one of America's most popular singing and recording artists, will appear at the Fox Theatre on Nov. 14 through 16. His special guest for each show will be T. Graham Brown.

Tickets are on sale now to subscribers to the Fall Subscription Series only. Ticket prices are $24.50, $21.50, and $12.50. They will go on sale to the public Sept. 21.

In the past decade, Kenny Rogers has established himself as an entertainer in both contemporary and country music. His music has earned numerous awards, including those presented by American Music, the Academy of Country Music, People's Choice, Cashbox, Billboard, Grammy and the Country Music Association.

Subscriptions are currently on sale and available only at the Fox Box Office, 527 N. Grand Blvd. The series includes Tony Bennett, The Lettermen, The Andy Williams Christmas Show, and Peter Allen with the Radio City Music Hall Rockettes.

Series tickets may also be ordered by phone, with Visa, MasterCard or Discover, by calling the Fox Box Office at (314) 534-1111.

Symphony starts gift campaign

The St. Louis Symphony is asking for help in giving the gift of music. Through the annual Gift Ticket Campaign, tickets for symphony concerts are purchased for senior citizens, veterans and the disabled.

The symphony's goal is to reach as many people as possible with its music. For this reason, the yearly campaign has begun.

The program accepts contributions in any amount to support the purchase of concert tickets for the less fortunate. All gifts are tax-deductible.

To give, send contributions to: St. Louis Symphony Gift Ticket Program, P.O. Box 63497—St. Louis, 63166-9990. For information, call 241-1100; or Nancy Wolfheim at 725-6916.

KMOV appoints new personnel

A number of appointments have been made at KMOV-TV, Channel 4. Among those appointed are:

- Leigh Anne Volas has been appointed to the newly-created position of News Operations Manager. In her new position, Volas will be responsible for future news planning and special event coverage in the news department.

- Patricia C. Van Hecke will join the staff as assignment manager.

- Jim Rothschild has been appointed to the newly-created position of director of operations. In this role, Rothschild will continue to oversee the creative services department at the station and will now also be responsible for the station's programming department.

HARRY HAMM ON ENTERTAINMENT

Twelve-year-old David Freeman (Joey Cramer) takes the ride of a lifetime aboard an extraordinary spacecraft with the assistance of a robotic creature named Max (above) in the Walt Disney Pictures presentation Flight of the Navigator.

Flight of the Navigator

With the exception of the recent arrival of Aliens, science fiction films have not been doing well this summer. Just ask the producers of Spacecamp or The Manhattan Project. But it looks like Disney Studios might be able to buck the trend with Flight of the Navigator, a late-summer release that ought to cruise its way to some nice totals at the box office.

Flight of the Navigator has some fetching early scenes of dogs chasing and catching frisbees in midair. After that bit of slow-motion, photographic gymnastics, the film gets down to the business of telling the story of 12-year-old David Freeman, played by newcomer Joey Cramer.

David is an all-American kid living in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He loves his family, teases his little brother, likes the outdoors and is just starting to notice that girls are different. While chasing his brother out in the woods one Fourth of July holiday, David falls and is knocked unconscious. The year is 1978.

David awakes in what seems like a few moments, lying right in the same spot where he remembers falling. But there is one small difference. The year is now 1986. And David Freeman, gone for eight years, has been declared missing and presumed dead.

What has happened to David (who still is 12 years old when he returns) involves an alien spacecraft on an exploration mission and the ship's robotic pilot, nicknamed Max. NASA gets involved and manages to both everything up. David and Max become friends in an adventure that involves space travel, time travel, touring the planet and lots of curious little creatures from around the universe with names you'll never remember. For instance, a Garpuente from Salgoud-travets. From the standpoints of script continuity or even common sense, Flight of the Navigator is a story full of holes. But despite its faults in that department, the film has an amiable tone and a generous free spirit that makes it a natural for family viewing. The special effects are well executed. The humor is gently laughable. The adventure is Saturday morning

Meryl Streep and Jack Nicholson meet and fall in love in Paramount Pictures' Heartburn, a funny and bittersweet look at modern romance and marriage.

Heartburn

Meryl Streep plays Rachel Samstat, a New York-based writer of cookbooks, and Jack Nicholson plays Mark Forman, a witty, sometimes bittersweet film about infidelity and the problems of modern day marriages. The story of Rachel and Mark is a simple one. They meet at the marriage of a mutual friend. He is very single. She is very divorced. Their first date is later that night, very later. In fact, Mark sleeps over.

As fast as that they are marching down the aisle, with only a one-hour delay on the wedding day as Rachel struggles with some last minute, instinctive doubts.

Rachel and Mark buy a townhouse in Manhattan. It needs a little work. It seems there was this fire, but soon they are settled in with the help of many skilled craftsmen and a second mortgage. Rachel becomes pregnant. Mark is excited. The baby arrives. It's a happy home.

Or is it? Heartburn is a film done in a kind of dramatic shorthand, with the humor and pathos dished out in equal, well-timed measures.

Nicholson and Streep work smoothly together. Their relationship looks real, although Nicholson never convinced me he was a writer of anything except post cards.

Harry Hamm regularly presents entertainment reviews and features on KMOX 1120.

Council accepts arts applications

The Missouri Arts Council is now accepting applications from visual arts and performing arts organizations that wish to participate in its 1987-88 Missouri Touring Program. The deadline is Monday, Sept. 15.

Touring applications are reviewed by the Council's Touring Advisory Committee on the basis of artistic excellence, management, touring history, marketing capability and availability of similar programs statewide.

As part of the selection process, each applicant who is not a current participant in the Missouri Touring Program is required to have at least one of his or her performance exhibitions viewed by a member of the Council's staff or the Touring Advisory Committee before the Committee's Dec. 5 meeting.

For information regarding the workshops or application process, write: Deborah D. Ahmed, Touring Program Administrator, Missouri Arts Council, 411-N. 7th St., Suite 105, St. Louis, 63101-2188; or call (314) 414-6845.

Around the kitchen

Barbecued beef steak
 1 1/2 lb. beef sirloin steak, about 1/2 inch thick
 1 can (7 oz.) beer
 1 medium onion, finely chopped
 1 cup soy sauce
 1 tsp. pepper
 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese

Place steak in plastic bag. Combine beer, onion, soy sauce and pepper. Pour over steak. Press air out of bag. Tie top securely. Refrigerate 8 hours or overnight, turning over occasionally. Remove steak from marinade. Place on grill 4 to 5 inches from hot coals. Cook 7 to 10 minutes on each side, or to desired degree of doneness. Sprinkle cheese evenly over top side of steak during last few seconds of cooking time. To serve, cut across grain into thin slices. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Hamburgers with salsa
 6 plum tomatoes, peeled (about 12 oz.) or 1 can (16 oz.) plum tomatoes, halved and well drained
 4 sprigs fresh cilantro or flat leaf parsley, chopped
 1/2 tsp. fresh lemon or lime juice
 1 tsp. salt replacement
 1 tsp. pepper
 4 dashes pepper sauce, if desired
 Chili Burgers

In food processor, combine tomatoes, cilantro, scallions, lemon juice, salt replacement and pepper. Pulse until chunky, not smooth. Set aside. Cook burgers as desired, about 5 minutes per side for rare. Serve salsa with burgers. Makes 4 servings.
 Chili Burgers: Thoroughly combine 1 1/2 pounds ground beef, 1/2 teaspoon chili powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt replacement and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Shape into burgers and cook as desired.

Quick mustard ribs
 2 cup prepared mustard
 2 tsp. molasses
 2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
 2 Dash hot sauce
 3 lb. spare ribs
 1 (12 oz.) can (1 1/2 cups) beer
 1 small onion, quartered
 1 tsp. salt
 1 Dash pepper

Combine mustard, molasses, Worcestershire sauce and pepper sauce. Set aside. Cut ribs in serving-size pieces. Arrange in 13-by-9 inch baking dish. Add beer, onion, salt and pepper. Cook covered, at high 20 minutes, rearranging ribs after 10 minutes. Brush sauce over ribs. Grill 5 minutes. Brush with sauce and turn over ribs occasionally. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

Potato salad
 1 (6 oz.) pkg. hash brown potatoes
 1 cup shredded carrots
 1 cup diced celery
 1/2 cup diced onion
 3 tsp. parsley
 4 hard cooked eggs
 1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
 1 cup french dressing
 Prepare hash browns according to directions. Add carrots, celery, onion, parsley, eggs, mayonnaise and French dressing. Mix well. Garnish with paprika, hard-cooked eggs and salad greens. Chill well. Variation: Add 1/4 cup diced olives.

Pasta picnic salad
 3 to 5 fresh nectarines
 1 cup dairy sour cream
 1 cup onion, chopped
 1 tsp. tarragon, crumbled
 1 tsp. thyme
 1 tsp. salt
 3 cups cooked corkscrew noodles (fusilli)
 1 cup water chestnuts or radishes, sliced
 Coarsely chop nectarines to measure 3 cups. Blend sour cream, onion, tarragon, thyme and salt. Mix in nectarines, noodles and water chestnuts. Chill. Garnish with extra nectarine slices, if desired. Makes 5 cups.

Blueberry corn muffins
 1 1/2 cups flour
 1/2 cup cornmeal
 1/2 cup sugar
 2 tsp. baking powder
 2 tsp. salt
 1 cup baking soda
 1 cup milk
 1 egg, beaten
 1 cup fresh or frozen blueberries, partially thawed
 Grease bottoms only of 12 medium muffin cups or line with paper baking cups. Sift in milk, oil and egg, mixing just until dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in blueberries. Fill prepared muffin cups three-fourths full. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at 425° until golden brown. Serve warm. Makes 12 muffins.

Homemade relish made with onions and sweet peppers will go on picnics, tailgate lunches, holiday tables and winter outings when it is preserved now in the interest of fine accompaniment later.

Any onions relish being stowed away

Onions are wonderful accompaniments for hamburgers, fried to their crunchiest best in rings and sprinkled on hot dogs as a starring mate. There are many different varieties, each with its own characteristics.

The recipes here are adapted for the enormous onions called sweet Spanish onions. They are juicy, mild and unusual in size.

Some are turned into a tangy Onion Pepper Relish, a choice of Sweet or Hot Pickled Onion Rings.

the ever-popular Onion Refrigerator Pickles and a super Onion Freezer Pickle. They are all easy to make, convenient to have on hand through the year and make unusual hostess gifts.

Sweet Spanish onions will come on the market soon. In the meantime, use similar amounts of other sweet onions by weight.

To store onions, keep them in a cool, dry location with good ventilation. For long storage, chop and freeze them.

Sweet pickled onion rings

- 4 medium sweet onions (2 lb.)
- 2 cups sugar
- 2 cups cider vinegar
- 1 cup water
- 1 tbsp. whole mixed pickling spice

Peel onions and slice  $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch thick. Separate slices into rings. Combine sugar, vinegar, water and spice in large saucepan. Bring to boil, stirring to dissolve sugar. Simmer 5 minutes.

Add onions. Bring just to boil, stirring gently. Do not cook.

Put in bowl, cover and refrigerate 2 days, stirring occasionally. Will keep refrigerated about 2 months. To keep longer, pack in hot sterilized jars, adjust lids and process in simmering water bath 15 minutes.

Makes about 3 pints. Note: Leftover dill pickle brine may be used in place of water.

Hot Pickled Onion Rings: Simmer as above 1 cup sugar, 4 cups white vinegar, 2 tablespoons mustard seed, 2 tablespoons prepared horseradish, 3 large bay leaves, crushed, and  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon crushed red pepper. Add onions and continue as above.

Note: Best served with chops, ribs, poultry or sliced cold meats.

Onion Refrigerator pickles

- 6 medium sweet onions
- 10 small cucumbers

- 4 cups sugar
- 4 cups vinegar
- $\frac{1}{2}$  cup salt
- $\frac{1}{2}$  tsp. celery salt
- $\frac{1}{2}$  tsp. mustard seed
- $\frac{1}{2}$  tsp. turmeric

Peel and slice onions thin. Separate into rings. Should measure about 12 cups.

Thinly slice unpeeled cucumbers. Layer onions and cucumbers in jars.

Combine sugar, salt, vinegar, celery salt, mustard seed and turmeric. Stir well. Do not cook.

Four cold syrup over onions and cucumbers. Place in refrigerator. Refrigerate at least 5 days before using. (See PICKLES, Next Page) fore using. Will keep several weeks under refrigeration. Save syrup and add more onions and cucumbers as pickles are used. Makes 8 to 10 pints.

Onion pepper relish

4 lb. sweet onions
2 to 3 green peppers
1 jar (4 oz.) chopped pimiento, drained
2 cups vinegar
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 tsp. mixed pickling spice
2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. dry mustard

Peel and chop onions to measure 2 quarts. Chop green pepper to measure 2 cups. Combine onion and green pepper with pimiento, vinegar, sugar, spice, salt and dry mustard. Bring to boil. Boil 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Pack into hot sterilized jars and adjust lids. Process in simmering water bath 10 minutes. Makes about 9 half pints.

Onion freezer pickles

3 medium sweet onions
3 medium cucumbers
2 tsp. salt
2 qt. ice cubes
4 cups sugar
2 cups cider vinegar
1 tsp. celery seed
1 tsp. mustard seed
1 tsp. turmeric

Peel onions. Slice thin. Separate into rings. This should measure about 6 cups. Slice cucumbers, unpeeled, into 1/8-inch thick slices to make about 1 quart.

Mix cucumber and onion slices with salt in large bowl. Cover with ice cubes. Set in refrigerator for 2 to 3 hours.

Drain off water and discard unmelted ice cubes. Do not rinse. Pack onion and cucumber in half-pint or pint-size freezer containers, about 1 1/2 inches below the rim.

In large pan, quickly combine sugar, vinegar, celery seed, mustard seed and turmeric. Bring to boil, stirring just until sugar dissolves. Pour just enough of the hot syrup over cucumbers to cover. Place lids on containers and freeze at least one week before using.

When ready to use, thaw by placing container in refrigerator, allowing 1 day for half-pint containers and 2 days for pints.

Tomato-onion soup

6 onions, peeled and sliced
1 1/2 tsp. butter
2 tsp. flour
1 qt. beef consommé
1 cup white wine
12 large ripe tomatoes, chopped and peeled
1/4 tsp. rosemary
1/4 tsp. thyme
Parsley and dairy sour cream as a garnish

Saute onions in butter. Add flour, consommé, wine, tomatoes, rosemary and thyme. Simmer 1 hour.

Process in food processor until smooth. Strain through cheesecloth. Return to pan and reheat. Garnish with parsley and sour cream. Serve immediately.

Swiss onion rice

Try Swiss Onion Rice to complement a roast, chops or steak. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Sauté 1/4 cup finely chopped onion with 1 cup uncooked rice until golden. Stir in 1 1/2 cups beef or chicken broth, 1/2 cup white wine, 1 cup sliced mushrooms, and 2 pork sausage links, chopped.

Bring to boil. Cover and simmer 25 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Before serving, sprinkle with 1/4 cup grated parmesan cheese. Makes 4 servings.

Freeze firm tomatoes as sauce or relish

Select firm, ripe tomatoes with brilliant color for freezing. Check to be sure that there are no cuts, bruises or spots.

Freezing tomatoes usually makes them too soft to serve raw. Tomatoes freeze especially well in a sauce or relish mixture. To make sauce or relish, remove stem ends, quarter, peel and cook until tender, according to cookbook directions.

Thaw frozen tomatoes gradually 4 to 12 hours in the refrigerator to lessen the opportunity for texture change.

The original "Windy City" earned its nickname from the bluster and long-windedness of certain prominent citizens, years ago.

Is history repeating itself?

Because this month, in the small town of DuQuoin, you can witness other prominent faces, actively engaged in the feverish exercise of their jaw bones.

The difference is in the sounds they produce.

For these "citizens" comprise some of the hottest, brightest, hippest acts on the music scene today. Performing live from the fairgrounds at DuQuoin.

That, along with 33,000 feet of livestock exhibition, stock and dirt car racing, and the World Trotting Derby promise you a summer's worth of memories.

In fact, you'll probably walk away echoing the sentiments expressed so well in that famous musical tribute to the windy city.

My kind of State Fair, DuQuoin is.

Peaches love to be in jam with slice of fresh bread

When balancing a food budget and looking for new ways to enhance "morning breads," think about serving toast toppings for old favorites, toast and muffins. Start with basic fresh Peach Jam.

Plan to take advantage of market specials while fresh peaches are at their peak. Add a package of powdered fruit pectin to the shopping list. The powdered fruit pectin will help capture fresh fruit flavor and assure a good "set."

Prepare fruit as directed, keeping in mind that correct proportions are essential so that the fruit will gel. Do not double the batch. Prepare fruit for only one recipe at a time. If food processor or blender is used for chopping or grinding, use care not to puree fruit.

When time and calories are being counted, look for the package of "light" powdered fruit pectin, which requires one-third less sugar than traditional powdered pectin. No-Cook Peach Jam lightens calories, as well as time.

When stored in a cool, dry area, jam should keep well up to twelve months. With that in mind, prepare a batch of Ginger Peach Jam. Earmark jars for gift-giving with hand-printed decorative labels. Homemade jam from the kitchen is a wonderful gift.

Peach jam

- 4 cups prepared fruit (about 3 lb. fully ripe peaches)
- 2 tbsp. lemon juice
- 5½ cups (2 lb. 6 oz.) sugar
- 1 box (1½ oz.) powdered fruit pectin

Peel and pit about 3 pounds of peaches. Grind or chop very fine. Measure 4 cups into 6 or 8-quart saucepot. Add lemon juice.

Measure sugar. Set aside. Mix fruit pectin into fruit in saucepan. Place over high heat. Stir until mixture comes to full boil.

Immediately add all sugar and stir. Bring to full rolling boil. Boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Ladle quickly into hot jars, filling to within ¼ inch of top. Cover and process in boiling water bath 5 minutes.

Makes about 6½ cups or about 7 (4-ounce) jars.

CommentBy Gregg
OchoaThe '86 Mets:
The team you
love to hate

Baseball's annual stretch drive has begun, and the race is on in three of the four divisions.

Barring any miracles, 1986 will see four new champions trying to earn a place in the Fall Classic.

The New York Mets, the team you love to hate, will no doubt win the East. It's a matter of by how many games.

Despite losing catcher Gary Carter (injured ligaments in his left thumb) the "Shea, Hey Kids" appear to have too much depth and too big of a cushion to fall.

Still, stranger things in baseball have happened.

In 1962, the Atlanta Braves were cruising, leading the second place Dodgers by 12 games late in August. The Braves went into a tailspin, losing 19 of their next 21 games.

Atlanta only won the NL West after the Giants' Joe Morgan honored off L.A.'s Terry Forster on the last day of the season. The Braves fell to the Cardinals in three straight in the playoffs.

The guess here is the Mets will not fall that far from grace.

However, the Mets cannot take things lightly. The New Yorkers have been arrogant in their winning this season. And if they don't watch it, things will catch up to them.

They love to fight and mix it up. Maybe they take after Manager Davey Johnson, once a scrappy player Johnson, by the way, made the final out in the 1969 World Series when he played for Baltimore. The 1969 championship was the Mets' only title. They won a pennant in 1973, but lost to Oakland in the World Series.

From the outset, the Mets talked about dominating the division in May. They talked of wrapping up the division by July 4.

Granted, they have been the best team in baseball, but the Mets are just that—a baseball team. They are not the Second Coming.

Last weekend, the Cardinals proved the Mets are human, beating the New Yorkers in four of six games at Shea. The four-game losing streak was the Mets' longest of the year.

Still, in New York, when the Mets breathe, it's news. The New York papers are running a contest to give the players nicknames. One New York daily has gone so far as to print the team's magic number in each edition. The publication has been doing that since before the All-Star break.

Another New York paper, running out of Met Hype, has gone so far as to start a feature on what the 1962 Mets did that particular day. The '62 Mets were one of baseball's worst teams with a record of 40-120.

With a music video in production ("Let's Go Mets") and all the hoopla, I wonder if the Mets remember what the real goal is.

Just because they dominated the regular season (playing close to .700 most of the year), the opponent in the playoffs won't be a patsy.

In the NL West, the Houston Astros increased their lead to six games over San Francisco and show no signs of fading.

Ex-Cardinal third base coach Hal Lanier deserves most of the credit. The Astros came into the season as underdogs.

Fall beckons; grid Warriors out

By Dave Whaley

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — For those of you to whom autumn means high school football on Friday nights, your time is near.

We're only 16 days away from opening night of the 1986 high school football season, when the Granite City Warriors host Cahokia in a 7:30 p.m. game.

But in the intervening time, head coach Ron Yates will be putting together the team that will face the Comanches that night. Practice began at 6 a.m. Monday.

That's right, 6 a.m. Yates will have 52 juniors and seniors out three times a day this week, before switching to a once-a-day 3:30 p.m. practice next week after school starts. The practices are at 6 a.m., noon and 6 p.m.

The first day of practice Monday was unlike so many other first days in past Augusts. Players expecting unbearable heat at the Warriors' practice field directly behind the stadium were pleasantly surprised, with temperatures only reaching the high 70s for the midday workout.

"That's one reason we scheduled two of the three practices for the early morning and evening," Yates said of the possibility of hot weather. "But the weather isn't too bad today."

Yates begins his third season at the helm for the Warriors, having compiled a 7-8 record in his first two campaigns. Yates was handicapped by a teachers' strike in 1984, when the Warriors played only seven games and had to open against East St. Louis with very little practice time. Still, they managed a 3-4 record, then finished strong last year to gain a 4-4 mark, winning their last three.

The 1986 season begins with cautious optimism.

"I'm happy with the way most of the players arrived in shape," Yates said. "Most of our guys did a good job with their weight and running in the offseason. There were a couple people who came in a little out of shape. They didn't do their running. We're going to have to get them ready in practice."

Granite City loses 13 players who started at some time during last year's team, so Yates and his staff will have plenty of decisions to make in the next two weeks as far as the starting lineup is concerned.

"I have a pretty good idea as far as the offense is concerned, but defensively, the jobs are wide open," the coach said. "We lost a lot of good people in the offensive backfield from last year, so that's one area where we'll need to get some help."

The graduating backfield consists of Dave Tatum, Pat Keeling, Ron Owens and Mike Fenglio.

But the Warriors do return some good talent from last year's team, including all-conference performers like quarterback Tim Hogan and split end Jamie Hogan.

Yates will also have to come up with a new placekicker and a new punter, having lost Steve Davis and Ryan Weeks. Placekicking candidates include Jimmy Parker and Kory Burton. The punting chores could go to one of the Hogans.

Although the first few days are often used for basic conditioning drills, Yates said he will be able to get into the X's and O's fairly soon.

"That's one reason we like the cooler weather," he said. "We don't feel so bad about pushing them a little harder in the early going."

Of course, even a great season for the Warriors probably won't result in a Southwestern Conference title, nor will it for Alton, Collinsville, Belleville East or Belleville West. The title, barring a major football miracle, will belong once again to the East St. Louis Flyers.

"I would think that would lead to a little different attitude," Yates said of the thought that the conference title is all but conceded to the nation's No. 1 high school football team. "I talked a little with Bob Shannon recently, and I would think his team will be as good or better than it was last year."

GC wins 3
divisions in tennis
invitational

By Al Barnes

Correspondent

GRANITE CITY — Allan Farmer of Belleville and John Quarenghi of Collinsville renewed their high school tennis rivalry this past weekend in the men's singles finals at the Granite City Tennis Invitational in a bitterly fought match which took an extra set to decide.

Farmer, a senior at Murray State in Kentucky and a member of the Thoroughbreds' net squad, won the match, taking the opening set in a tiebreaker, 7-6 (2-3). He lost the second set, also in a tiebreaker, 6-7 (3-7), but won the match with a 6-3 victory in the third set.

Quarenghi, a senior at the University of Illinois, pipped up a try for the Illini tennis team to concentrate on his studies. He hopes to be admitted to law school in Champaign. He played two years of junior college tennis in Arizona.

It was Farmer's second straight year to win the title here. Quarenghi, who faced five match points in the second set, battled back to even the match, but the effort appeared to take something out of him.

Granite City natives were victorious in three divisions of the tournament, held at the Wilson Park tennis courts. Rob Lombardi and Dave Lape triumphed over Quarenghi and Jay Lesker 6-3, 7-6 (7-4) in the men's doubles division.

Mike Barnes and Dun Isom of Granite City won the 35 and over men's doubles with a 6-2, 7-6 (7-4) win over Terry Bates of Godfrey and Jim Monka of St. Louis.

Lombardi also won the 18 and under singles with a hard-fought win over Paul Wagner of Belleville. Lombardi, playing some of the finest tennis of his career, lost the first set 3-6, but then steadied himself and ran out the match with ease, losing only three games in the last two sets, 6-0, 6-3.

For the first time in five years, Mike Barnes lost the 35 and over singles crown, bowing to Cliff Fields of East St. Louis 6-4, 7-5. Fields is the tennis coach at East St. Louis Lincoln High School.

The women's singles title went

Jr. Highs start grid practice on Aug. 26

Head coaches John Sikora of Grigsby Junior High School and Jim DeLeonardis have announced that football practice and equipment handout will begin on Aug. 26 for football teams at both schools.

The time of the handout will be announced at school. Eighth grade players are reminded that they must have a physical to participate in football.

All-star sprints come to Tri-City this weekend

The All-Star Circuit of Champions sprint cars will be at Tri-City Speedway in Granite City this Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 23-24. It will be the fourth straight year the circuit has appeared in Granite City. On July 12, the rain-out show saw more than 30 cars qualify before Mother Nature stopped the action.

The two-day special starts Saturday evening at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 2 p.m., with the gates opening at 5 p.m. and 11 a.m., respectively. Complete shows are run each day, with $3,000 to win. The appearance here is just part of a tour of Illinois and Missouri for the circuit. The $56,000 in total purse money will attract the area's many spring drivers. Illinois drivers Dean Lindsey, Tony Weyant, Andy Snapp, the Standridge's, and many others will compete against invaders from the east. Kenny Jacobs, current All-Star points leader, headlines the list of drivers, including Kelly Kinser, Danny Smith, Fred Linder, Rick Ungar, Rick Ferkel, Joe Gaerte, Kevin Thomas, Rodney Duncan, Todd Kane and Rodney Ritter.

For more information, call Tri-City Speedway at 931-9965.

Golf tourney at Arlington

The 3rd Annual Frank Harris Memorial Golf Scramble will be held Sept. 6 at the Arlington Golf Course. The entry fee is $10, with $2 of each fee to be donated to the heart fund.

Players in the four-man team event will be divided into flights based on ability or handicaps. Signup sheets will be available at Smokey Joe's, Arlington Golf Course, the Elks Club and at Granite City Steel. Persons may also register by contacting Fred Frame, Mickey Loftus, Elroy Cueto, Bob Butler, Gene Whitaker or Jim Cavanaugh.

The first tee-off time is scheduled for 11 a.m. The registration fee will be paid at the course.

season with modest expectations, and Lanier has instilled confidence.

Houston, with its tough pitching, could give the Mets all they could handle in the playoffs. The Astros' last appearance in the postseason was in 1980. Houston and Philadelphia locked horns in one of the best series ever played. Four of the five games were decided in extra innings.

If the Astros and Mets win their divisions, they will do so on the clubs' 25th anniversaries.

In the American League, the races in both divisions might go to the wire.

The Red Sox lead the Yankees, but four other teams (Detroit, Toronto, Baltimore and Cleveland) all are within striking distance. The division is so balanced that everybody except Milwaukee is over .500. And the Brewers are just two games under.

Boston, which has an uncanny knack of folding down the stretch, has not won a division title or a pennant since 1915.

The hope here is the Red Sox will shake that jinx and make it into the post season.

In the AL West, defending champion Kansas City appears to be out of the chase. California and Texas are the only two teams above .500. The Angels, baseball's oldest team, lead by 4½.

It would be nice to see an All-Texas World Series, but sentiment is for Angel manager Gene Mauch. In his 20-plus years as a big league skipper, Mauch has never won a pennant. He came close in 1982. The Angels had Milwaukee down 2-0 in the playoffs, but couldn't deliver the knockout punch.

One person's pick of post-season awards:

• MVP: Glenn Davis, Houston; Wade Boggs, Boston.

• Cy Young Award: Fernando Valenzuela, Los Angeles; Roger Clemens, Boston.

• Rookie of the Year: Kevin Mitchell of New York or Todd Worrell of St. Louis (too close to call right now); Wally Joyner, California.

Manager of the Year: Hal Lanier, Houston; John McNamara, Boston.

to Carol Siegel of St. Louis, who turned back Amy Bucher of Belleville in straight sets, 6-2, 6-0.

Probably the hardest-fought match of the three-day tournament was the girls 16 and under playoffs, but couldn't deliver the knockout punch.

One person's pick of post-season awards:

• MVP: Glenn Davis, Houston; Wade Boggs, Boston.

• Cy Young Award: Fernando Valenzuela, Los Angeles; Roger Clemens, Boston.

Bill Gluck of St. Louis took the 12 and under boys singles by turning back Collinsville's Matt Joergensen 6-0, 7-6 (7-5). The 14 and under boys singles turned out to be a battle between two St. Louis natives, Mike O'Meara beat Tim Fries, 6-2, 7-5.

Brad Mossman of Jerseyville won the 16 and under boys singles by sweeping Art Flattich of Belleville, 6-4, 6-1. Mossman boasted to John Van Buskirk, who has managed the tourney for the last four years, that he intends to win the 18 and under boys singles when he reaches that age.

Don't count him out. Over the last five years, Mossman has won the 12 and under and the 14 and under boys titles.

The 14 doubles crown was won by a St. Louis duo of Fries and O'Meara. They beat Mark Massey of Collinsville and Mike Benivenigna of Belleville, 6-1, 6-4.

Flattich and Joergensen beat Granite City's Jim Johannpeter and Pete Knutson of Ballwin, Mo., in the 16 and under doubles finals, 7-6 (7-5), 6-3.

Instructional football camp this fall

The Granite City Park District is offering a non-contact instructional football camp in the fall. Instruction will be provided by a seven-member staff that includes professional athletes and retired educators Keith Parker and John Tondoff.

In conjunction with Don Harris, Pat Harris, Eric Robertson and Larry Curry, they will work to create a camp that promotes recreation and sportsmanship. Games, drills and activities will stress proper technique for executing basic football skills, exercise, agility and speed.

Granite City High School head football coach Ron Yates will function as an advisor. Coach Yates has planned special activities for the camp participants with the varsity football players.

The camp starts Sept. 6, and will continue for eight consecutive Saturday mornings. Fourth and fifth grade students are invited to attend the 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. session. Sixth and seventh grade students are asked to attend the 10:30 a.m. to noon session. The camp will be conducted on the varsity practice field behind the press box.

No fee will be charged, and registration will remain open through the camp. Participants are not required to attend all eight sessions.

For additional information, contact Dave Price, recreation supervisor, at 877-3059.

THE FRENCH CONNECTION

Cancer Society Gala Promises Festive Stroll Through Paris

By Jim Baer
Journal Staff Writer

Anyone who has dreamed of strolling down the Champs Elysees and gazing up at the Arc de Triomphe, soon will have a chance to live that fantasy without leaving downtown St. Louis. The opportunity will come Sept. 28 at the American Cancer Society's French Connection gala and dinner—an event during which the upper level of the Old Post Office downtown will be transformed into a Parisian boulevard complete with flower carts and entertainment by mimes, jugglers, clowns, street artists and magicians. Music will be provided by The Quartet Seraphin from the St. Louis Symphony and the Missouri Concert Ballet Company is providing Can-Can dancers. Guy Phillips and Mike Wall, the morning radio team on Y-98 FM, are the masters of ceremony for the Sunday-evening affair that will begin with a cocktail hour from 6 to 7 p.m.

Cocktails will be followed by an extravagant six-course meal. Hors d'oeuvres include poached oysters, smoked scallops, shrimp and snails. Other items on the menu include poached salmon filet, mango sorbet, roast veal saddle, bouquet of vegetables and Boston bibb salad. Dessert will be meringues layered with chocolate and lemon cream fillings.

The lavish affair has been planned for 18 months by a cadre of French gourmet chefs directed by Marcel Keraval of Cafe de France, and a committee headed by honorary chairman Pat Coffey and co-chairmen Joan Heskler and Sherry Singer.

"This promises to be a unique event (that) we think people will really appreciate and enjoy," says Glenn Kelley, executive director of the American Cancer Society's St. Louis Chapter. "The chefs have donated their time and skills to make the evening a big success. Formal attire is optional at the event, which is limited to 400 patrons. Tickets are $125 per plate. A $1,000 sponsorship guarantees eight tickets while a $500 patron receives four tickets.

The committee's goal is to raise $100,000 for the American Cancer Society's national and local research, education and patient service programs. Nearly $1.5 million is spent each year on research at several major St. Louis hospitals.

Contributors can donate to the Cancer Society in three ways—through the purchase of tickets, by underwriting some of the event's expenses or by purchasing advertising in the affair's program book.

Kelley praises the efforts of the volunteers who put the program together.

"Cancer today is such a pervasive part of our community," he says. "We are working to create more of an awareness of treatment and education. Really talented people are putting this thing together. Their efforts really make my heart sing. The volunteer workers are the real true heroes of our society today."

The major corporate donors for the event include the St. Louis University Hospital Auxiliary, the Kroger Co., United Missouri Banks, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ridgway.

The Suburban Newspapers of Greater St. Louis are a corporate sponsor of the fund-raiser.

A number of politicians and notables from Missouri and Illinois are expected to attend.

Tickets may be reserved by calling Pat Coffey (314) 867-3073 or the American Cancer Society at (314) 567-9730.

Valet parking will be provided for guests.

PLANNING THE French Connection fund raiser required the expertise of many prominent St. Louisans like, from the left, Clara Cichalia of the St. Louis University Hospital Auxiliary, Kroger Vice President Bob Hodge, Honorary Chairman Pat Coffey, Co-chairman Sherry Singer and Suburban Newspapers General Manager David H. Baer, on the right, SLU Hospital Auxiliary President Mary Steuterman, American Cancer Society Executive Director Glenn Kelley, Chief Chef Marcel Keraval and Co-Chairman Joan Heskler.

PARDON THEIR French, but Guy Phillips and Mike Wall, Y-98 FM's morning DJ's, will serve as masters of ceremonies at the French Connection dinner. Here the two guide Cancer Society Publicist Kathy Swensky safely through a dark wine cellar.

Conference aimed at reducing stress

A national conference aimed at minimizing the pressures that can depress and impair physicians will again be offered by the University of Illinois College of Medicine and the American Medical Association (AMA).

The fourth annual Stress, Impairment and Resident Conference, designed for hospital administrators and department heads, physicians who serve as chief residents and other medical educators, will be held Sept. 17-20 at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Focus of this year's meeting will be on practical, programmatic strategies that can help young physicians in training successfully cope with stress in today's hospital environments.

"Physician impairment is a grave problem in the medical community. Even physicians who completed their training in the golden era now suffer rates of substance addiction and alcoholism conservatively estimated at 10 percent," said Laurell Ferris, a University of Illinois at Chicago graduate and a medical practice consultant, nationally recognized as a leading proponent of innovations in physician training.

Increasing attention is being paid to behavior patterns that are fostered in stressful hospital residency programs and are considered by many experts to be the source of physician impairment, Ferris said.

Studies indicate more than one-third of all hospital house staff members experience "severe clinical depression during the first year of postgraduate training."
